Public Works cleans Segars Cemetary

From Staff Reports

As part of the ongoing Base Beautification Initiative at NAS Meridian, Segars Cemetery, located on Rabbit Road, underwent a significant restoration on April 22. The project, spearheaded by employees from NAS Meridian's Public Works Department (PWD), aimed to revitalize the cemetery, which had long been neglected. The Segars Cemetery, established in the mid to late 1800s, contains approximately nine visible graves with markers. However, the true number of individuals buried there remains unknown. The cemetery spans around 4,385 square feet and is the final resting place of the Segar, Speed, and Miller families. Located adjacent to the base fence line on Rabbit Road, the site had been abandoned over time and obscured by thick vegetation. The recent restoration focused on clearing the overgrown grass, trees, and debris surrounding the graves and their markers. The cemetery is no longer a hidden, overgrown space, as it has now been restored into an accessible, identifiable, and welcoming site of remembrance. This cleanup effort is a vital part of NAS Meridian's commitment to honoring the area's history and ensuring the cemetery remains a place for future generations to reflect on the past. Thank you to the volunteers who contributed to the restoration -- Richard McKee, Cliff Mayatt, Jeff Mangrum, Larry "Allen" Conners, and Lauren Laboy.

MATSS-1 Welcomes New Executive Officer

From Staff Reports

Marine Aviation Training Support Squadron One welcomes a new executive officer. First Lieutenant Scott is a graduate of Oklahoma State University with a Bachelor of Science in Business Administration and was immediately employed by Sherwin-Williams, a Fortune 500 company, as an assistant store manager in Fort Smith, Arkansas. He was promoted to store manager in December 2019, managing his own store in Pryor, Oklahoma, while preparing for Officer Candidate School (OCS) in Quantico, Virginia. First Lieutenant Scott completed OCS and was commissioned in August 2021, immediately attending The Basic School. Upon graduating, he reported to Marine Aviation Logistics Squadron (MALS) 14 on-board Marine Corps Air Station (MCAS) Cherry Point for on-the-job training before attending the Aviation Supply Basic Qualification Course in Milton, Florida, in July 2022. Following graduation, he returned to MALS-14 and served as the Customer Support Branch Officer in Charge. In October 2022, First Lieutenant Scott was selected to continue serving as the Customer Support Branch Officer in Charge (OIC) and began preparation with his team for the Functional Area Inspection, which they passed. This contributed to the MALS-14 Aviation Supply Department (ASD) receiving the highest score in the 2d Marine Aircraft Wing (2dMAW) that year. In June 2023, First Lieutenant Scott would focus on flight line readiness as the Customer Reconciliation Branch OIC. In November 2023, he began preparation for Nordic Response 24 (NR-24) as the Marine Aircraft Group (MAG) 14 Aviation Supply Officer. In February 2024, he traveled to Evenes, Norway, in support of NR-24, providing real-world proof of concept for the abilities of The North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) with its new allied countries, Sweden and Finland, during their first NATO exercise together. He and his team augmented with F-35 fighter attack squadron VMFA-542, working alongside the squadron,

Ten Aviators Earn Wings of Gold in April Ceremony

From Staff Reports

There was a naval aviator designation ceremony April 25 on-board Naval Air Station Meridian. Ten Aviators received their “Wings of Gold” during the ceremony. The naval aviator designation ceremony is not prescribed specifically by U.S. Navy regulations, but has emerged as an honored product of the rich heritage of naval tradition. It marks the culmination of nearly two years of specialized training, which has prepared these officers for the rigorous demands of aerial combat and carrier operations -- earning each the title of “Naval Aviator” and the right to wear the coveted “Wings of Gold.”

Ensign Riccardo Alberti, Italian Navy. While in Primary Flight Training, he was named to the Commodore’s List with Distinction. During Advanced Jet Flight Training, ENS Alberti earned three Navy “E’s” for bombing accuracy. He carrier qualified in the T-45C on board the USS GEORGE H. W. BUSH (CVN 77) on March 27. LTJG Alberti completed Advanced Jet Flight Training with Training Squadron Nine.

Norwegian military, commercial carriers and supporting entities to provide logistical support, maintaining 100 percent mission capability and completing over 200 sorties during the exercise. Immediately upon returning to MALS-14 in late March 2024 after NR-24, First Lieutenant Scott was selected to join 2d Marine Expeditionary Brigade (II MEB) as a Battle Watch Captain (BWC) within the G3 for operation in Naples, Italy under Task Force 61/2 (CTF 61/2). After several weeks, he was again selected to travel to Larnaca, Cyprus to perform duties as an operations and liaison officer under Joint Task Force 406 (JTF-406) for the Cypriot (CYP) National Guard's Amalthea Plan Coordinator. First Lieutenant Scott coordinated and tracked data alongside multiple entities including EUCOM, CENTCOM, CYP, the United Nations 2720 Mechanism, European Union Civil Protection, USAID, UKAID, and military representatives from France, Israel, and the United Kingdom to provide humanitarian aid to Gaza from Cyprus under the Amalthea Plan. After operations concluded at the end of July 2025, First Lieutenant Scott returned to Naples, Italy to resume his duties as a BWC before returning to MCAS Cherry Point in August 2024. In September 2024, First Lieutenant Scott received orders to report to MAG-29 after their recent merger on MCAS New River as a MAG Readiness Officer within the newly constructed Aviation Logistics Cell to assist MALS-26 Supply operations pertaining to MAG-29 after their recent merger with MALS-29. Shortly after his arrival, he additionally took charge as the OMD OIC, working with his team to successfully support both MAG-26 and MAG-29 aircraft readiness and operations while simultaneously preparing for an upcoming Functional Area Assist (FAA) with 2dMAW. After successfully passing the FAA with MALS-26 Supply, First Lieutenant Scott received orders to Marine Aviation Training Support Squadron One.

U.S. Navy Sailors, Marines and Coast Guardsmen joined together with students and recent graduates of Arc Broward Culinary to compete in the “Galley Wars” cooking competition as part of Fleet Week Fort Lauderdale (FWFL) 2025, April 28.

Arc Culinary is a non-profit organization dedicated to empowering individuals with disabilities and learning challenges to be successful in a culinary career. Arc Broward Culinary features a full kitchen classroom, sponsored by the Emeril Lagasse Foundation.

“The students we have are very ecstatic to work with the military members,” said Chad Phillips, one of the instructors for the post-secondary certification program of Arc Broward Culinary, and a U.S. Marine veteran. “They are working beside people that they look up to. They were absolutely amazing to our students and they absolutely just treated them in a manner to make them feel special and worthy.”

The “Galley Wars” competition included five teams made up of three service members and a current, or recently graduated student of Arc Culinary. The service members represented the Arleigh Burke-class guided-missile destroyer USS Cole (DDG 67), the San Antonio-class amphibious transport dock USS New York (LPD 21), the Virginia-class attack submarine USS New

Special K-9 Training

NAS Meridian’s Military Working Dog (MWD) program was thrilled to welcome two K-9 officers and their dog Lotus from East Mississippi Correctional Facility to conduct additional training on the installation, April 18. Terrance Wilson, the owner of Wilson K-9 Consultants based in Washington, D.C., is leading the training of two K-9 officers and needed a new space for the officers and their dog to learn. Wilson, a former Marine himself, knows the importance of training and reached out to our security forces for assistance. Our MWD Program was more than happy to assist our fellow law enforcement partners in the community.
